

Dear President and Congress of the United States,

Thank you for not supporting public transportation. Your generous funding of road construction is greatly appreciated. Your trucking industry subsidies are critical to our success. The petro-dollars you send to the Middle East give us the resources we need to kill your soldiers and any civilians who get in our way. To continue helping our cause, I recommend the following policies:

- + Mass transit is a waste of money. Radically slash funding for existing public transportation services. Give the money to your friends and campaign contributors who deserve it. Prosecute the war on Amtrak until it is gone forever!
 - + Show disdain for energy conservation at every opportunity. Waste is good!
 - + The future belongs to the earmarked! Build more bridges to nowhere!
 - + Generously subsidize the automobile and road construction industries.
- Ignore all that looney talk about increasing fuel economy standards.

These actions will drive increased petroleum consumption. More money for me! I promise to repay your generosity with death, suffering, and destruction. Politicians of America, I salute you! You are among my best friends and supporters anywhere in the world. Thanks to the aid and comfort you give me, one day my flag will fly over your White House and Capitol in Washington, D.C.

Sincerely,

Osama Bin Laden

www.energyconservationinfo.org

Dear President and Congress of the United States,

Thank you for not supporting public transportation. Your generous funding of road construction is greatly appreciated. Your trucking industry subsidies are critical to our success. The petro-dollars you send to the Middle East give us the resources we need to kill your soldiers and any civilians who get in our way. To continue helping our cause, I recommend the following policies:

- + Mass transit is a waste of money. Radically slash funding for existing public transportation services. Give the money to your friends and campaign contributors who deserve it. Prosecute the war on Amtrak until it is gone forever!
 - + Show disdain for energy conservation at every opportunity. Waste is good!
 - + The future belongs to the earmarked! Build more bridges to nowhere!
 - + Generously subsidize the automobile and road construction industries.
- Ignore all that looney talk about increasing fuel economy standards.

These actions will drive increased petroleum consumption. More money for me! I promise to repay your generosity with death, suffering, and destruction. Politicians of America, I salute you! You are among my best friends and supporters anywhere in the world. Thanks to the aid and comfort you give me, one day my flag will fly over your White House and Capitol in Washington, D.C.

Sincerely,

Osama Bin Laden

www.energyconservationinfo.org

Dear President and Congress of the United States,

Thank you for not supporting public transportation. Your generous funding of road construction is greatly appreciated. Your trucking industry subsidies are critical to our success. The petro-dollars you send to the Middle East give us the resources we need to kill your soldiers and any civilians who get in our way. To continue helping our cause, I recommend the following policies:

- + Mass transit is a waste of money. Radically slash funding for existing public transportation services. Give the money to your friends and campaign contributors who deserve it. Prosecute the war on Amtrak until it is gone forever!
 - + Show disdain for energy conservation at every opportunity. Waste is good!
 - + The future belongs to the earmarked! Build more bridges to nowhere!
 - + Generously subsidize the automobile and road construction industries.
- Ignore all that looney talk about increasing fuel economy standards.

These actions will drive increased petroleum consumption. More money for me! I promise to repay your generosity with death, suffering, and destruction. Politicians of America, I salute you! You are among my best friends and supporters anywhere in the world. Thanks to the aid and comfort you give me, one day my flag will fly over your White House and Capitol in Washington, D.C.

Sincerely,

Osama Bin Laden

www.energyconservationinfo.org

Dear President and Congress of the United States,

Thank you for not supporting public transportation. Your generous funding of road construction is greatly appreciated. Your trucking industry subsidies are critical to our success. The petro-dollars you send to the Middle East give us the resources we need to kill your soldiers and any civilians who get in our way. To continue helping our cause, I recommend the following policies:

- + Mass transit is a waste of money. Radically slash funding for existing public transportation services. Give the money to your friends and campaign contributors who deserve it. Prosecute the war on Amtrak until it is gone forever!
 - + Show disdain for energy conservation at every opportunity. Waste is good!
 - + The future belongs to the earmarked! Build more bridges to nowhere!
 - + Generously subsidize the automobile and road construction industries.
- Ignore all that looney talk about increasing fuel economy standards.

These actions will drive increased petroleum consumption. More money for me! I promise to repay your generosity with death, suffering, and destruction. Politicians of America, I salute you! You are among my best friends and supporters anywhere in the world. Thanks to the aid and comfort you give me, one day my flag will fly over your White House and Capitol in Washington, D.C.

Sincerely,

Osama Bin Laden

www.energyconservationinfo.org